John lived on a farm near Sulphur Springs until 1944, when he moved to California. He worked as a civilian at the Travis Air Force Base throughout the war. He retired living in Fairfield, California. He was a tall thin man, a trait that ran in his family. His death triggered his daughter Mary's quest for his ancestry. In the course of her correspondence, she was sent the compiler's address by a Stubbs family (not related) in COlorado, received by the family ten years earlier. A long correspondence and the quest for all of her grandfather's descendents have brought forth the records in this book. Until her letter the compiler onlu knew her great-grandfather Franklin's family in Washington Parish Louisiana. This family was reared as Methodists.
